SUPPORTING THE NEXT GENERATION of AVIATION/AEROSPACE PROFESSIONALS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Making Connections

The B.C. Aviation Council has been representing the interests of aviation in the province for 81 years. Once a year it brings together leading aviation and aerospace professionals from across the province to celebrate individuals who have been recognized with a Silver Wings Award. In addition, one of the BCAC's mandates is to provide scholarships to worthy students pursuing their studies and careers in airport operations and aviation maintenance, those mature students upgrading an aviation career, or seeking flight training instructor certification, helicopter IFR or AME training, or those training to become commercial and private pilots. As a vast province that relies heavily on aviation to move goods and people, it is important to support the next generation of British Columbians who will keep the industry airborne. This is especially critical as we face increasing human resources shortages across British Columbia. We hope you will make a commitment to help by sponsoring the Silver Wings Awards on October 24, 2019, where the scholarship winners and other industry leaders will be honoured at a spectacular event taking place at the Vancouver Convention Centre West.
