

BC AVIATION COUNCIL INDUSTRY AWARDS

Recognizing Excellence in BC Aviation and Aerospace

WILLIAM (BILL) TEMPLETON AWARD

This award was established in 1970 by Mrs. Irene Templeton in memory of her late husband Bill Templeton. Mr. Templeton was the Manager and Chief Developer of the Vancouver International Airport (YVR) from 1931 until his retirement in 1950.

Mr. Templeton died in 1966, at which time the trophy was accompanied by a "keeper" rose bowl to be suitably engraved for retention by each recipient. Mrs. Templeton provided sufficient funds to make the award self-supporting in perpetuity.

The William Templeton Award is awarded annually for outstanding initiative and achievement in the successful development of a community airport or floatplane landing facility by an individual, association, municipal government or company.

An endowment sustains the award and provides a supply of "keeper" rose bowls. The endowment is, in fact, of substantial size.

The first trophy was awarded at the 1971 Annual General Meeting to the Anahim Lake Community Association for their hard work and initiative in building their community airport from scratch to completion.
